2.	Q:	Is the Online Trading Services the same as LSHS's trading terminal which can input order directly to the market?
	A:	The Online Trading Services provide an alternative whereby you can place a request to buy or sell securities through LSHS, and it is connected directly to LSHS's trading system, which in turn connects to the Exchange's trading system. However, your instruction to LSHS may be rejected due to its credit policy. Therefore, clicking the mouse is not exactly the same as inputting an order into the Exchange's trading system nor executing a trade. Instruction may be rejected by LSHS and delays can be encountered before your instruction to buy or sell is actually effected.
3.	Q:	How do I trade by using the Online Trading Services?
	A:	After confirming the submission of your order using the Online Trading Services, your order will be routed to LSHS's system on a first-come-first-serve basis. Your order may be subject to approval before it is sent to the market for execution. Your order may also be rejected by the trading system due to price variation as a result of market fluctuation.
4.	Q:	How can I know if my order instruction has been successfully received by LSHS and submitted to the market for matching? Can I also check the status of my order online?

	A:	Once the order has been successfully received by LSHS and submitted to the Stock Exchange, the order status including partially-filled order, fully-filled order and cancelled order for the day will be shown under the “Today Order” folder at the bottom left of the “Internet Securities Trading System”. Alternatively, you can also call LSHS to check the order status. 		You may modify or cancel an order with either of the following status: NEW – Pending, PEX - Partially Filled, Q - Queued In Exchange, WA - Waiting For Approval. However, it is not always possible to cancel or modify an order after it is given as it might have already been executed in the market when the cancellation or modification request is being processed.
6.	Q:	How many order types would be available in the Online Trading Services?
		Basically, there are five types of orders: Limit Orders, Enhanced Limit Orders, Special Limit Orders, At-Auction Orders and At-Auction Limit Orders. Enhanced Limit Orders and Special Limit Orders allow orders to be matched at more than one price so that part of the order may be executed at a price that is better than the price that was entered into the Online Trading Services. As market order and matching of more than one price queue are allowed, orders may be executed at a different price from the input order price due to changes in market price. At-Auction Orders and At-Auction Limit Orders allow trading at auction period during the Pre-opening Session and Closing Auction Session. Please click here for detailed description of each order types.
