Options Menu

Click the Options menu to access various functions. Users can quickly open Watchlist & Chart, Single Stock, and Single Stock & Portfolio.

Single Stock & Portfolio

Click on <Single Stock & Portfolio>, users can monitor the stock market and portfolio at the same time, it shows information such as net asset value and cash balance.

Order Input

Click <Trade> on the main menu to open the stock transaction page. It will be split into upper and lower parts; the upper part shows the stock market data and the lower part shows the stock transaction page. This interface enables users to monitor real-time market trends while trading stocks.

The screenshot displays the trading interface for HSBC Securities Ltd. At the top, there's a header with the company logo and name. Below it, a table lists various stock indices and their performance. A red circle highlights the 'Symbol' column in this table. A red arrow points from this circle to a callout box labeled "Input Stock Code". In the lower part of the interface, there's an order input form. A red arrow points to the "Trade" button in the left sidebar, with a callout box labeled "Click to open Transaction page".

On the Transaction page, users can get the stock quotation (at least 15 minutes delay) by inputting the stock code. Stock trading can then be carried out by clicking <Buy> or <Sell>, with an option to choose an order validity period of up to 14 trading days.

The screenshot shows a detailed view of the trading interface for HSBC HOLDINGS(S). It includes a stock quotation table with fields like Open, High, Low, Piv Close, Nominal, Change, Volume, and Turnover. A callout box labeled "Select Buy/Sell" points to the "Buy/Sell" dropdown menu. Another callout box labeled "Order Validity" points to the "Validity" field. A callout box labeled "Input the order information" points to the "Price" and "Order Qty" fields. A callout box labeled "Stock Holding" points to the "Stock Holding" table. A callout box labeled "Orders queued" points to the "Status" field.

To amend or cancel the order placed, click <Amend/Cancel> or the action column on the right-hand side of the order. All the daily transaction records and the stock holding of the account can also be seen on this page.

The screenshot shows the HSBC Holdings (HSBC HOLDINGS(S)) trading page. The interface includes a top navigation bar, a central chart area, and a bottom order management section. Red arrows point from callout boxes to specific elements: 'Amend/Cancel' points to the 'Amend/Cancel' button in the order management section; 'Today Order' points to the 'Today Order' tab; 'Today Trans' points to the 'Today Trans' tab; and 'Stock Holding' points to the 'Stock Holding' table.
